Skill Level

After our work on communication ideas we move to time saving computer tips.

It does not matter what database software you use to store your information. We will discuss how you can work with it- manipulating, cleaning, adding, creating targeted lists in five minutes using Microsoft Excel, Word and Outlook (or Lotus Notes). The skill level can be from beginner through to advanced. Absolute beginners might find it too fast paced and not descriptive enough.

Testimonials

Graeme Rodda: The workshop I attended several years ago with you at Melbourne Town Hall was the most informative and instructive of any attended over the past 8 years or so. It was refreshingly simple to follow your instructions; always given with logic and explanations - for a relatively small SME like me. All I had to do was listen, digest and learn, with plenty of examples being given along the way. And I still value your newsletters whenever received, as they continue to be the most instructive and logical of any the come across my desk.

Darryl Hawke; Managing Director;
Rivers Insurance Brokers Pty Ltd
"You gave the best 2½ hours of training I have done in 20 years. I could have added a week to my life alone over this period had I just known how to split names across two cells in excel. Thank you!"

Mike Pero, Mike Pero Mortgages
"You are a natural educator - lovely to watch and listen to. Easy to absorb the info offered. You produced mountains of great ideas - I'm charged with new ways of communicating with our customers."

You and your staff will love Debbie Mayo-Smith

Best selling author, one of the most sought after speakers & trainers in Australasia as well as 1 of only 37 certified speaking professionals in Australia or NZ.

The knowledge exchange from the workshop will enable you to skyrocket business turnover and free up your valuable time. To cap it off, you'll laugh, have fun and be entertained and hear many relevant stories and visual examples to reinforce "what's in it for me". The results you will achieve will be outstanding.

Russell Good; Managing Director;
Goodlife Insurance Brokers
"I would be a millionaire if I heard you years ago".
